ABOUT US

We are a young Swiss couple and travel lovers. We believe that we should embrace all the opportunities we have to discover the world!

After being disappointed by the corporate life, we have decided to travel and share our experiences with the world.

Our goals are to explore the world and hunt hidden gems, while inspiring our community!

We have written more than 20 articles in our blog, showing the best things to do in the countries we have traveled to. Moreover, we have written a Swiss and an Icelandic roadbook.

We have also written a Guide referencing more than 350 sustainable hotels in 20 countries in Europe.
